Early Signs of Mild-to-Moderate Hearing Loss

Mild-to-moderate hearing loss often begins subtly. Recognizing the signs early is key to addressing hearing loss before it affects your quality of life. You might notice:

- 1. Guessing Conversations. Asking people to repeat themselves more often during conversations.
- 2. Increased Volume. Turning up the TV or radio to levels that seem uncomfortable to others.
- 3. Social Withdrawal. Feeling overwhelmed in social settings or avoiding them altogether due to difficulties in understanding what people are saying.

*LXE's hearing test is clinically validated with over 90% accuracy (Potgieter et al., 2016; Potgieter et al., 2017), however, please note that it is not intended to replace a professional hearing test from a qualified healthcare provider. Only a hearing test performed by a qualified provider can provide you with a precise profile of your hearing ability.
